Record crowd turns out for the Fair

Parade the biggest ever, participation up in other weekend events

Perfect weather and a full slate of events and attractions combined to bring a record breaking crowd to Kinmount over the weekend for that community's annual fair.

Close to 18,000 people paid admission fees to the fair grounds, and several thousands more took part in events associated with the fair.

One of the highlights of the fair was the parade, which drew an estimated 1,500 participants, according to organizer Guy Scott.

Throughout the weekend there were hundreds of entrants in dozens of competitions.

Hundreds of prizes were awarded, too many to be listed here, but some of the highlights are as follows:

In the heavy horse draw, Mac McGillivray of Cardiff had the best team, and in the light horse class, Murray Cowen of Haliburton took first place honours.

Sunday's demolition derby proved to be a popular event with spectators. It was won by Gerard Jilsen of Downeyville.

The amateur talent show attracted numerous entrants, and competition was keen in six categories. The junior vocal division was won by Sandra Hume. Intermediate vocals were won by Wendy Genoux. Curtis Gartshore took the senior vocal category. In the instrumental competition, Ted Hadley was the winner. The fiddle contest was won by Gord Marsden, with George Warren taking first place in the step dancing competition.

Sunday's 4x4 pulling event was another crowd pleaser which drew a large number of entrants. The half ton class was won by Roger Gould of Nestleton, while the three quarter ton class was taken by Larry Strong of Tory Hill.

Agricultural events are a tradition at the Kinmount Fair, and as usual, farmers from many parts of Ontario were on hand to vie for ribbons.

The cattle show was well supported, and a number of farmers took home a fistful of ribbons. In the Charolais class, Keith Gobble of Janetville was awarded seven first prizes.

In the Angus class, alcolm Bailey of Uxbridge was the top competitor, earning eight first place ribbons.

Philip Jones of Cameron dominated the Hereford class, winning six first place ribbons. Lois Batty of Coboconk earned two top prizes in this category.

In the Simmental division, Elmer

Lidtkie of Little Britain won five firsts, while Brice Handley of Campbellcroft had two first prizes.

The heavy horse competition also attracted a number of entrants from the surrounding area. The big winners in this class were the Conn Brothers from Elmvalle who took home four first prizes. Sine Nesbitt of Minden was a close second with three firsts, as was Wallace Denne of Washago, who also earned three firsts.

Ruby Cochrane of Blackstock won two first prizes in the heavy horse division, as did Murray Heath of Campbellford and Earl Durward of Sunderland.

In the sheep show, George Miles of Minnising was the top competitor, earning 11 first place ribbons. Barry Grant of Woodville was close behind with 10 firsts. Russel Dow of Bowmanville had eight firsts, and Larry Agar of Phepstown took three firsts.

The horseshoe pitching competition was a popular event as well. In the single division, Ray McLaughlin was the winner, and he teamed up with Harold McLaughlin to earn the doubles title as well.

Some of the most keenly contested categories at the fair are those involving vegetable growing, baking and handicrafts. There were more than 500 separate categories in the exhibit hall, and a total of more than 1200 entries.

One of the most sought-after prizes is for the best display of garden produce, and it was won this year by Bonnie Wilkinson of Irondale.

Couples win weekends at county-wide festival

The four winners of Harvest Festival weekends in Haliburton County were announced on CBC radio last Wednesday.

On the weekend of September 10, Constance Goodfellow from Woolfe Island will bring her workaholic husband up to stay at Wig-a-mog for the weekend. They will have dinner out at the PineStone Inn and will participate in the festivities of Klondike Days at Gooderham.

For a 40th wedding anniversary weekend get-a-way Mr. and Mrs. Rutherford from London will spend their time at Beech View Cottages near Minden. Their weekend includes dinner out at the Fireside Restaurant and the Caribbean Islands night at the Minden Community Centre on September 17.

Mrs. Ruth Hopwood of Belleville will be bringing her lover of 25 years to the Highlands on the weekend of September 23. They will be staying at Sandy Lane Resort and have a special dinner out at Mr. Fogg's. Bienvenue a Stanhope, or french casino night, will be included in their weekend plans.

October 1 will be the weekend for Denise Bowes and her friend to visit the Lakeview Motel in Haliburton. Denise has been seriously ill for the best part of the summer and is looking forward to her weekend with dinner out at the Harvest Room and the activities taking place at the Haliburton Harvest Festival celebrations.

All these folks will also receive free weekend passes to the Sky Slider and be the guests of honour at the various activities that will be taking place.

Passports for the Harvest Festival events are still available, and can be obtained from local businesses and the Chamber of Commerce.

Monmouth deadlocked

Monmouth Township politicians appear to be no closer to breaking a deadlock over the hiring of a road superintendent for the municipality despite the withdrawal of two out of the three candidates.

Gary Stoughton and Rocky Graham informed council by letter that they want to be dropped from contention, a move which appeared to clear the way for the hiring of Barry Dunford.

The three men were interviewed for the job August 2, using questions prepared by the Ministry of Transportation and Communications. Based on the interviews, a motion was introduced at a special meeting of council August 11 to hire Barry Dunford for the job.

Dunford, who is a member of council, declared a conflict of interest and took no part in the discussions. But when the motion was put to a vote, council split down the middle, with reeve Keith Tallman and councillor Alan Revill voting in favour of hiring Dunford, and deputy reeve Harry Clark and councillor Jim Deterling opposed.

Another special meeting was held August 30 and at this session, council received a letter from Graham and Stoughton indicating that they did not want to let their names stand for the job.

This appeared to facilitate the

It was back to school for youngsters around the county on Tuesday morning, and many of them seemed to be having fun as they scrambled off the buses to meet their friends and teachers.

Area Chambers in Haliburton for convention

Chamber of Commerce managers from across Ontario will arrive in Haliburton Wednesday night for a two day convention.

It is the first time that the Ontario Chamber of Commerce Executive has held their annual get together in resort country, according to organizer Bob Stinson, who is marketing representative for the Haliburton Highlands Chamber.

"I've been trying to get them to come to Haliburton for some time," said Stinson. Normally the convention is held in the home town of the incoming president, but Lydia Jones of Burlington agreed to have the event moved from that city to Haliburton.

Up to 50 Chamber executives from throughout southern Ontario and as far north as Sault Ste. Marie are expected to take part in the convention, which will get underway Wednesday evening with a reception at Wigamog Inn. Thursday the delegates will attend workshops and seminars throughout the day. In late afternoon they will break off and take a ride to Haliburton on the Highland Queen tour boat. A wine and cheese reception is planned at the Sky Slider, and delegates will also get a chance to try out the ride.

The group will then go on to Haliburton Lodge for dinner, and later will return to Wigamog, where they will be entertained by the Good Companions, a music hall group which performs regularly at Deer Lodge.

Friday business sessions resume until 4 p.m., followed by a Hawaiian banquet to wind up the event. Some delegates are expected to spend the rest of the weekend in the area.

Terry Fox run a chance to help win the fight

You can run, walk or ride September 18, but the important thing is to participate

For the third year in a row local residents will have an opportunity to support the fight against cancer by participating in a 10 kilometre Terry Fox Run.

The run will begin at Haliburton's government dock at 1 p.m. on Sunday, September 18.

In 1981, the Haliburton run attracted 148 entrants and raised a total of $5,825 in entry fees and pledges. Last year's event was well supported by local runners but fewer cottagers took part, and receipts totalled $3,986.15.

The run will follow a relatively easy course down County Road #1 to South Kashagawigamog Lake Road, turning around at Haliburton Highlands Golf club to return to the government dock. It is not necessary to run the route. It can be walked or bicycled if you wish, with the main emphasis being on participation.

To date, more than 850 Runs have been officially organized across Canada, England, the United States, Brazil, West Germany, Switzerland, China, Turkey and the Soviet Union.

The 10 kilometre Runs are being coordinated by the Canadian Cancer Society, the Canadian Track and Field Association, Fitness and Amateur Sport Canada and the Four Seasons Hotels. Last year's Run raised more than $2.4 million for cancer research.

One of the more unique Runs will take place on the flight deck of the HMCS Skeena, a Canadian helicopter-carrying destroyer. The crew hope to raise $1,000 by running more than 500 kms while at sea.

Fehim Kamali, a one-legged runner who was married last year after finishing a 10km Toronto Run, will participate this year in Winnipeg, Manitoba.

The most northern Run will take place at the Special Alert Armed Forces Base at the North Pole. More than 200 armed forces personnel will run for Terry.

In Montreal, a troupe of 40

Greek dancers, La Troupe Folklorique Grecque, will raise money through a 24-hour dance-a-thon. Just outside Montreal, nine year old cancer victim Steve Coute will walk the 10 km route. Coute, currently undergoing chemo and radiation therapy, suffers from bone cancer, the same disease which claimed Terry Fox's right leg.

Terry Fox's brothers, Darrell and Fred and father, Rolland, will run again with participants in Port Coquitlam, B.C. Terry's mother Betty, will also be on hand at the run site to cheer on the participants.

Terry Fox was the 22-year-old amputee who lost his right leg to cancer in 1977. Departing from St. John's Newfoundland, he embarked on his cross-Canada Marathon of Hope to raise funds for cancer research. Having run across two thirds of the nation, he was forced to discontinue his run just outside Thunder Bay, Ontario in September, 1980. He died of cancer in June, 1981.

Thousands of Canadians have taken up Terry Fox's quest to raise money for cancer research through the annual Terry Fox Run.

Those wishing to participate in this year's September 18 Run should pick up pledge sheets at Mike's Milk in Haliburton or Becker's in Minden.

Group focusses on property rights

Your home may not necessarily be your castle, according to the Ontario Real Estate Association (OREA).

Concerned with an overabundance of government legislation which they say results in a serious threat to property rights, the 25,000-member association is sponsoring the third annual Private Property Week, October 2-10, 1983.

The Association's concern with property rights goes back to its founding in 1922, says OREA's 1983 President Walter Dean. "We started with the premise that property ownership was a basic right -- a traditional right," he said, "and we have constantly fought for the protection and preservation of those rights over the last 60 years."

In recent years the Association published Losing Ground, an authoritative text which analyzes all legislation affecting property rights in Ontario. The study, released in 1980, found that more than 700 statutes or parts of statutes directly affected the rights of property owners to own, use or enjoy their land.

A follow-up study titled Lost Ground, details case histories of individuals whose property rights were infringed by government action (or, in some cases, inaction). Many of these cases involve personal or financial loss.

Concern about property rights in Canada has taken a new turn because of renewed efforts to entrench property rights in the Charter of Rights and Freedoms this year.

The governments of British Columbia and New Brunswick have already passed resolutions calling for entrenchment and the Ontario government has also promised passage of a similar resolution. In Ottawa, political wrangling stymied efforts to get such a resolution through the House of Commons.

Private Property Week is designed to educate the general public about those basic rights, Dean said. Local real estate boards across the province are planning a variety of activities to share further information about property rights. Included are such programs as board open houses, seminars, and heritage celebrations. Numerous boards are sponsoring information displays in many public access locations such as libraries and shopping malls.

"Most immigrants came to Canada -- and indeed still come -- believing that they could own their own piece of land and build a future for their families here. That's what built this country and makes it different from most other nations," he said. "We must protect those rights."

Private Property Week, operating under the theme "Your Home is Your Castle - Let's Keep It That Way", is designed to remind Canadians and particularly Ontarians of that heritage. It is therefore particularly appropriate, Dean added, that the celebrations wind up on Thanksgiving Day, October 10.

In all, the Ontario Real Estate Association represents more than 80 percent of all licensed real estate brokers and sales people in Ontario and more than 50 percent of all licensed individuals in Canada.

Pauline Harris and Marnie Blair, assistant coordinators at the Rails' End Gallery accepted a cheque for $2,197.50 from Skyline Rides owner Steve Bowskill last week. The money was raised through a Slide for Art day at the Sky Slider ride, and helped supported the Robert Bateman show at the Gallery.

Acid rain agreement set Ontario, New York to participate in joint projects

An Ontario-New York State Memorandum of Understanding to exchange scientific information and to participate in joint research projects on acid rain was signed in Toronto by Environment Ontario Minister Keith Norton, Ontario Inter-governmental Affairs Minister Tom Wells, and New York State Commissioner of Environmental Conservation Henry G. Williams.

"Ontario has gained a very powerful and influential ally in the struggle against acid rain with the signing of this memorandum," said Norton. "The memorandum will eliminate duplication of cost and effort for both jurisdictions and increase our mutual effectiveness."

The memorandum calls for:

- Standardization of methods and procedures for sampling and laboratory analysis.

- Co-operation in the field of atmospheric modelling and tracer studies designed to identify sources and transport and to exchange the results of these studies.

- Collaboration in setting up compatible and complementary scientific research programs for investigating the environmental and socio-economic consequences of acid precipitation.

- Free exchange of scientific information between government agencies, universities and other interested scientific groups, through the publication of research reports and the organization of symposia.

- Preparation of a joint course of action to influence decisions in favor of emission reductions for pollutants that cause acidification of the environment.

Norton said the agreement will also increase the awareness of acid rain as a serious pollution problem throughout the U.S. and thereby lend more weight to Ontario's argument for increased control of emissions by U.S. sources.

Never bring a recently used grill inside without emptying the coals, warns the Ontario Safety League. The coals may appear to be out, but can actually still be releasing deadly carbon monoxide.

Galway Cavendish council

At a meeting of Galway/Cavendish council August 15, the following matters were considered:

A Mr. and Mrs. Campbell attended the meeting to discuss the road leading to their property which crosses Peter Wesley's property, plan 21, lot 2, township of Cavendish. It was suggested that Mr. and Mrs. Campbell get in touch with Mr. Wesley to insure that they acquire a legal right-of-way from him.

Wesley's application to purchase the 66' road allowance between concessions 2 and 3, township of Cavendish, was deferred until satisfactory arrangements have been made between the two parties concerned pertaining to the road running through Wesley's property which services Campbell's property.

Rolf Stange attended the meeting to discuss the three land fill sites in Galway and the maintenance agreement, which is tendered each year, and damage to his fence at the junction of the Dutch and Queen's Lines.

Minutes of the roads committee meeting of August 11, 1983 for the month of July were adopted as presented.

Severance B-105/83, concession 18, lot 7, township of cavendish, (Mr. Henry James Elliott) was deferred and councillor H. Stuart will inspect the property and submit his recommendations at the next council meeting.

The petition from Pencil Lake pertaining to the operation of Spectra Aviation was received.

A delegation from Pencil Lake with Ray Harrison as spokesman attended the meeting to discuss the air service that Stephen Wilcox operated from Pencil Lake. Harrison presented his brief to council outlining the cottage's area of concern. After Harrison had presented his brief, Wilcox answered questions from the concerned ratepayers and explained the operation of "Spectra Aviation" from Pencil Lake.

Donald Langlois attended the meeting to discuss his minor variance application which had been turned down previously.

Council consented to a Council consented to a minor variance application being made on concession 12, lot 26, township of Galway, and authorized Donald Langlois to bring the minor variance application to the committee of adjustment.

The by-law enforcement officer was directed to enforce the by-law in regards to the commercial operation of Spectra Aviation from Pencil Lake and the petition from Pencil Lake Cottage's Association pertaining to the cancellation of the Airport license was directed to the township solicitor for his comments and recommendations.

Joe Robertson attended the meeting to discuss the proposed re-alignment of Highway #507 which will run directly through his property. Council suggested that hiring of Dunford, but when the matter was put to a vote, council members had not changed their minds. With two members in favour of hiring Dunford and two opposed, the motion was defeated.

While the matter remains stalled, grader operator Harry Sommerville is acting as road superintendent for the municipality.

OPP deal with spate of calls

No deaths reported, but incidents kept officers busy

No fatalities or serious injuries were reported in Haliburton County over the Labour Day weekend, but Minden OPP officers were kept busy responding to some 92 occurrences, more than is usual for an entire week.

There were 12 motor vehicle accidents in which four people suffered minor injuries, eight break and enters, 16 thefts and 13 complaints of noisy parties.

Among the most serious occurrences:

- On Sunday, September 4, a group of people were enroute from Bancroft in a van, proceeding to the Kilmount Fair. One of the vehicles' occupants became belligerent and began fighting with the others, inflicting minor knife wounds on two of them. All parties lived at the same address, a half-way house in Bancroft: Garth Leslie, age 34, was charged with wounding and was lodged in the Lindsay jail awaiting a bail hearing today.

- Daniel Ray Griffin, age 19, of Guilford Township, appeared in Lindsay court August 29 on several criminal charges and was sentenced as follows: cause disturbance, 30 days; breach of probation, 30 days; break, enter and theft, 3 months; break, enter and theft, 3 months; breach of probation, 30 days.

Most of these occurrences related to crimes in and around Haliburton Village, such as two break-ins at the Old Country House Restaurant and a disturbance at the Harvest Restaurant.

- Three chainsaws, stolen from the Haliburton County Garage at Ingoldsby, were recovered this past week. Charged with the break-in and with possession of the stolen property is Brett William Porter, age 19, of Minden.

- The most serious accident investigated, involved a 1973 Volvo, driven by Victoria Sisson, age 27, of Guilford Township. She apparently lost control on a curve on Highway 118 near the junction of Highway 519. The car received $7,000 damage when it rolled twice. Sisson and her two passengers, Judith Filman, age 27 of Peterborough and Gail Teasdale, age 31, of West Guilford, were treated at Haliburton Hospital for their injuries. Sisson was charged with careless driving.

show were entered by Joe Ferren of Kinmount, while Penny Goodhand of Burnt River had the best 11 quart basket of spuds.

The largest pumpkin in the hall was grown by Bea Taylor of Minden. This senior citizen had more than 150 exhibits in the fair, and won a number of prizes.

Fred Hill of Kinmount entered the prize winning display of three turnips.

The best two zucchinis were entered by John Jardine of Kinmount.

In the green tomato category, John Hickey of Kinmount took the first place ribbon, while in the red tomato class, Lynn Phillips of Kinmount was the winner.

The best display of cut flowers was entered by Lola Dettman of Kinmount.

Tow classes of Gladioli was contested, and Mary Hartin of Kinmount won them both.

In the Agrican violet category, Michael Perry of Fenelon Falls had the best single bloom, while Louise Webber of Minden had the best double bloom.

The cactus garden category was won by Fran Harris of Salmon Lake.

The baking competition is never short of entries, and this year's display of pies, cakes and cookies was exceptionally good.

The best chocolate cake at the fair was baked by Wendy Watson of Burnt River, while the best white cake was made by Enneli Lettner of Kinmount.

Beatrice Taylor of Minden added the best loaf of white bread to her list of first prizes.

The best display of five pies was entered by Violet Schroter of Kinmount.

There were 21 competitors in the chocolate chip cookie division, and the winner was Robin Perry of Scarborough.

Bea Taylor of Minden took yet another first with her display of four baked items.

Goldie Dudman of Burnt River had the best decorated cake at the fair.

The prize for the best locally produced quart of maple syrup went to Darlene Ladouceur of Fenelon Falls.

Winner of the best quilt award at the fair was none other than, you guessed it, Bea Taylor of Minden, who won top prize in the quilt division at the Minden Fair as well, although with a different quilt.

Simone Harrison of Minden had the best braided rug at the fair, while the best hooked rug was entered by Faye Greer of Davis Lake.

In the senior citizens club display competition, the Kinmount seniors were the winners.

There were three categories in the best mittens competition, and Sharon Sisson of Bracebridge won them all.

Shirley Wallace of Orillia won the prize for the best handicraft item at the fair.

The best leathercraft item was entered by Hilda Chynoweth of Norland.

There were two classes for ceramic articles. Eleanor Sothorn of Cannington took one class, and Louise Webber of Minden won the other.

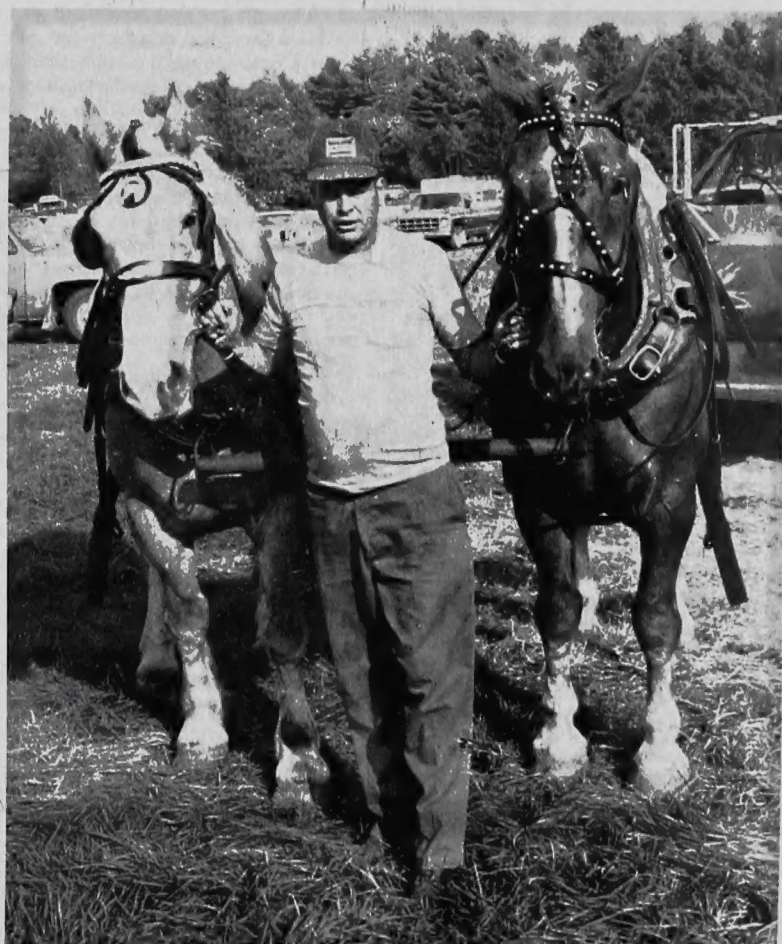

The prize for the best mural went to Kinmount Public School, while the best oil painting was entered by Annette Stone of Kinmount.

The best birdhouse competition was won by Dwight Sisson of Minden.

Jennifer Dettman of Kinmount had the best rock collection in the eyes of the judges, while the best child's oil painting was entered by yet another Kinmount youngster, Christa Brelsford.

The goat show, organized and run by the Haliburton County goat association, attracted some 20 exhibitors who entered more than 150 goats.

More results of the fair will be published as they become available.

Well spent

The increasing trend of governments to spend money on make-work programs that decrease the unemployment rolls temporarily but do nothing in the long term to help Canada's job shortage problem has been criticized by many concerned citizens. Such programs place an ever greater burden on taxpayers, whose contributions are merely handed back to others without creating any real economic growth. A better method of using taxes to diminish the unemployment rolls is to spend money on job training programs that give marketable skills to people who would otherwise have little to offer employers.

Such a program has been operating in Haliburton since May, and it appears to be getting good results. A Hospitality Training Centre has been established with government funds under the Local Employment Assistance Program. The first group of eight students has graduated from the 13 week course, and almost all of them have found jobs as a result of the training they received.

Haliburton's economy is service oriented, and people who want jobs here need skills that are useful to local lodges, resorts, restaurants and merchants. Until the Hospitality Training Centre opened, the only way to get the necessary skills was by working in the industry, (which was difficult to do because most employers won't hire unskilled or inexperienced help), or by attending a community college that offered courses related to the hospitality industry. The latter option was not open to everyone, for academic and economic reasons.

The Hospitality Training Centre has provided a third option, one that is within the reach of many local people. It is too early to pass judgement on the final usefulness of the program, but so far, there is every indication that it will succeed in its goal of opening new employment doors.

If it continues to turn out employable graduates, it will be an example of tax money well spent.

Participate

Once again, the time for the Terry Fox run is fast approaching. For the past two years, the run has been a popular event across Canada. The Terry Fox run is both a way of remembering a valiant Canadian and a chance for local citizens to do something meaningful in the fight against cancer.

The run covers a 10 kilometre, or 6.2 mile course. That's a fair distance to run if you don't train regularly, but it's not really very far to walk. So if you're not a runner, don't feel you can't take part. All you need is a pair of comfortable shoes and a pledge sheet. So why not take up the challenge? Talk your friends into covering the distance. Make it a family affair. You'll get some exercise and help one of the best of causes at the same time.

The run takes place on Sunday, September 18. It begins at Head Lake dock at 1 p.m. Make it a point to be there.

Do you have an opinion on this week's editorials? Or is there something else going on in the community that strikes you as particularly good or particularly bad? If so, why not share your feelings with the thousands of other people who read the Echo each week? All you have to do is write a letter to the editor, and you too can have your say.

So how about it? Why not write a letter to the editor today. All we ask is that you sign your name, and that you do your best not to make false accusations. You can be assured that we publish all signed letters.

Letters

To The Editor:

Re: Flying Clothes and the Bare Facts
We operate a business which involves providing a service year round for the community and tourists. One of the unfortunate aspects of this (as anybody who operates a business in this county can appreciate) is that you have to generate enough revenue in the summer months so that you can continue to operate in the winter.

It boils down to two key facts -- 1. promote and provide a good service so that you can generate these revenue dollars. 2. so that you can absorb the loss in the winter time.

You could I guess just operate your business in the summer and then close your doors and say, "Who cares about the local community?" Well we care, because we are part of it and we try and play an active role in the community. If all the businesses who are in our situation decided to only operate in the summer it would lead to a very bleak, depressing community in the winter months.

It would appear that the county attracted a record number of tourists but due to economic problems which we don't control the amount of available leisure spending dollars is lower than the past years. From information we have obtained the food and booze stores are having a bumper year while the majority of entertainment places, prepared food and lodging establishments are not quite up to par.

So here we are trying to accumulate enough operating dollars for the complete year when up jumps what I feel is an unfair competitor. Here's a one shot deal -- grab the money and run.

What can we do, we decided to provide an evening of entertainment by providing an exotic male dancer. The only results I have seen so far apart from the 180 people who enjoyed the performance is that every frustrated pen pal has come out of the kitchen cupboards writing letters so they can use misleading phrases and naughty words that don't even come close to the entertaining performance that was held at the Rockcliffe.

I think you frustrated writers should get together and lobby council to pass a by-law which states you can't write anything about something you obviously didn't witness. If that's too difficult, then get together and pray that business will improve in the money-losing winter months.

KEEP those cards and letters coming.

Notebook

by Len Pizze

There was something different about this Tuesday morning. I could sense it as I drove into Haliburton from my home on Lake Kashagawigamog. Little things had changed. Barnum Lake was empty, mist shrouded and calm. On other mornings the lake had always rippled with a fishing boat or two, but this morning it was silent and undisturbed. Head Lake, too, was as smooth as glass. A stillness enveloped the landscape. It was almost palpable, this sense that at last the county was coming back to normal. The tourists and cottagers had gone home, and a feeling of space had returned.

Like many people in Haliburton County, I look forward to days like Tuesday, days when I am reminded why I live here instead of in a city. All summer long, I grit my teeth and put up with the invasion of "fun seekers" who treat the county as their playground and turn it into a zoo. Yes, I know that to talk that way is almost heretical in Haliburton County, where the tourist and cottager dollar is all-important. But the end of the summer is still a cherished time for me, as I suspect it is for many people. There will be less money around now, but there will be fewer disturbances too, and more opportunity to enjoy the serenity of the landscape and the calmer pace that makes life in Haliburton so attractive.

Reverend John James called me last week to ask if I'd be interested in a column he'd like to write about the issue of the male "exotic dancer" who appeared at the Rockcliffe tavern in Minden recently. I said I'd welcome his comments, and on Monday, he submitted his piece. I read it with great interest, and was impressed by his ability to make important points in a simple, down to earth way. I hope you'll read his column and consider what it says carefully. And I hope it may spark you to want to try your hand at expressing your ideas through the Echo. We have always welcomed letters to the editor, and look forward to the opportunity to publish them. But there is also a space in the Echo for columns such as the one Rev. James came up with this week. He says he

The Labour Day weekend is over and the children have now returned to school. The weather is still nice and the summer season of 1983 is now history. Those who are reporting a poor summer as far as business was concerned certainly can't blame it on the weather. July and August were two months that were hot and humid all the way. It was a little too hot at times for working but as far as touring is concerned it was ideal. Out of the 60 odd days I doubt if there was more than one day that we had rain. And by the way if there is one thing that could use at the present time, that is rain. They tell me that the forest is like a tinder box. We have been lucky up to this point that the Ministry of Natural Resources have been called out to extinguish some small fires but nothing out of the ordinary. Yes, both July and August, weather-wise, have been ideal. This is just the direct opposite from last summer. We have to admit that July of last year was lovely but August was one of the coldest and rainiest that we had for several years. As far as September has been concerned up to this time it is just carrying on with that lovely warm weather of the summer months. As far as business is concerned I have been talking with several business people throughout the county and I bring back this report. Some say that business was really good for the two months and that they are more than satisfied, while others report a record breaking July but that August fell off at a very fast rate and others report being down 30 percent in August compared with a year ago. It seemed to me that there were more people around this August than ever before, but possibly they just weren't spending money. With inflation being what it is today, even though it is down, a business must be doing better than it did a year ago, but to do just the same amount of business is just not good enough.

We have just been informed that the Haliburton Seniors Club will be starting their 83-84 season on Thursday, September 22. The meeting will be in the form of a pot luck lunch and all members are asked to come and bring a friend. We understand that attendance at the time that the meetings were being called off for the summer months were down and the Seniors Club are inviting new members to join so that the numbers will be greater at each gathering.

While still on the subject of the summer there seemed to be one thing that stood out in my mind. If you look back on the Sunday evenings for the past two summers you will find that practically every Sunday would be nice and sunny but with few exceptions it would start to get dark around six o'clock and threaten rain.

The Bancroft Oldtimers Hockey Club have been working out at the arena in Haliburton in preparation for the games they will be playing this coming winter. They were out in full force for a practice on Sunday.

The community worship services which have been held at Head Lake Park during July and August concluded for this year on Sunday night. The St. George's Anglican Church Gospel Choir from Haliburton provided some lovely music for the service. Lieut. Sidney Buell of the Salvation Army was the guest speaker.

Randy Grant of Haliburton was the lucky winner of $7,000. in the recent Lottario draw.

Our congratulations go out to Beachli Construction softball team, winners of the Haliburton Men's Recreational Softball League for 1983. Congratulations are also in order the West Guilford Ladies softball teams, winners of the Ladies Softball League. These two championship games played at the Haliburton Ball Park on Tuesday, August 30 drew one of the largest crowds to witness a ball game at the local park for some time. Beachli Construction defeated the Kinsmen Club of Haliburton while the West Guilford Ladies won out over Minden Dixie Lee.

The Rotary Club of Haliburton report that Ken Morley is up and around again and convalescing at his home on Haliburton Lake following some heart problems. We wish Ken a speedy recovery. While still on the subject of the Rotary Club we note that Roger Dart was inducted into the club recently.

Preparations are being made for the Third annual United Church, Haliburton Pastoral Charge outdoor worship and potluck picnic to be held once again this year at Birch Point Lodge on Sunday, September 11 at 11:00 a.m.

Curtis Eastmure, the owner-manager of Maple Sands Resort was the guest speaker at a recent meeting of the Rotary Club of Haliburton. He gave a very informative talk on the Haliburton County Nordic Trail Association. This is to be a central body for the co-ordination of cross country ski trails in the county. The goal is to eventually join existing trails to form a county wide system. Hopefully this would allow skiers to ski from lodge to lodge on extended trips which could be planned over several days if desired. The Association also wishes to standardize trail classification -- i.e., novice, intermediate and expert. This way a novice skier won't find themselves on a trail which is too demanding for their skills and equipment. The group would like to be able to connect up with the extensive trail system at Camp Wanakita this year with existing trails in Stanhope, Snowdon, Lake Kashagawigamog, Camp Kandalore and the Leslie Frost Centre in subsequent years.

Pic of the Past

In 1904 this Russell family left Toronto and moved to Carnarvon in the Highlands of Haliburton, which Mr. Russell had chosen as an excellent place to raise his family. This picture was taken approximately 10 years later

From the Chamber

Free Event

The Annual Meeting Committee of the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce is pleased to announce that their Annual Meeting will be free. The Annual Meeting will take place on October 19, 1983 at Wig-a-Mog Inn at 3:15 p.m. The theme for this year's Annual Meeting Day is "You, Haliburton County and The Future!". You should begin to make your plans now as we are presenting a very worthwhile program of value to any Chamber member in the county on that day. The day will begin with a panel discussion on "You, Haliburton County and The Future!" which will include among its participants Mike Walker from the Ministry of Tourism, Gary Kenney, warden Bill Howe and moderator Bob Stinson. As well seminars will be presented on the importance of quality in running your business and on the values one can achieve from various services available to your business.

I was most happy to have been invited for a lunch last week at the C.N.E. by the president and directors of the Canadian National Exhibition on Tourism Day. Guest speaker was Michael Bartland, President of Expos 86 which will be the next world fair in Vancouver. Following lunch he showed us a fascinating slide show utilizing 18 slide projectors.

To See and Do

Once again it's time for that great annual event, the Corduroy Enduro. The Corduroy Enduro will take place this year on September 10 and 11 running from Locarno Resort on the beautiful north shore of Lake Kashagawigamog. Registration for this dirt bike rally which is North America's biggest takes place on Friday night and Saturday morning at Locarno. The Enduro will begin at 8 a.m. and finish back at Locarno Saturday. Sunday there will be a shorter Enduro planned and awards will be presented Sunday night at 8 p.m.

As well it is once again time for the Harvest Festival to get under way. September 10 the Harvest Festival opens in Gooderham with their Klondike Jubilee. Passports are only $5 and will get you into all four of the Harvest Festival events this year. Passports are available at the Chamber of Commerce office or from the local committees in Gooderham, Minden, Stanhope and Haliburton. This is an excellent opportunity to visit the Klondike and you only have to drive as far as Gooderham.

On September 8 a new show begins at the Agnes Jamieson Gallery by the Lindsay 5. This show, which will continue until September 27, features many fascinating works in various media including oils, acrylics, watercolours, pen and ink, pottery and photography. These artists are members of the East Central Ontario Art Association and the Lindsay Art Gallery. Having seen the preview of the show I can tell you that it is a very beautiful art show and well worth seeing.

On September 10 a new show opens at the Rails' End Gallery in Haliburton, the Fingering Fibres Exhibit. This show of hand made knitted and crocheted items of clothing and accessories is by artisans from throughout Ontario and Quebec. All objects are made from fibrous materials and this should be fascinating show well worth seeing. The gallery is open from Tuesday to Saturday 11 to 5.

plans to write more columns from time to time, and we're sure you'll agree that the Echo will be better as a result.

I began this bits and pieces column by saying how happy I am that the county is returning to normal now that the summer is over, and I must admit that part of my delight stems from the fact that September brings renewed political activity, and that means more news. It can be tiring and even a little boring to sit through long meetings of councils, especially since much of what councils discuss is "routine" and therefore not newsworthy. But when councils are back in full swing there is usually enough news to fill each week's issue without too much hair pulling and despair. Unfortunately, this past week was the "driest" one on the summer from a news point of view, and it has been a struggle to fill the front page. So if you think there's not a lot to read in this week's issue, bear with us. Things are bound to get better. And in the meantime, ask yourself if you know of anything newsworthy in the county that was not touched on in this week's paper. If you do, let us know. We're always open to suggestions, especially in a "slow" week.

Report from Parliament

Bill Scott, M.P.

Over the better part of the summer, I have been dealing with many of you who are awaiting approval for Farm Credit loans.

The program of 8 3/4% loans quickly ran out of money shortly after its announcement in the April budget. For the last two months, the Farm Credit Corporation (FCC) was not even considering loan applications. On August 23 I received a news release from them with mixed emotions. It stated that they have now resumed approving loans, as a result of the cabinet decision allowing the corporation to borrow $250 million on the financial markets. The bad news is that, as reported earlier, this is far short of FCC's required amount. As well, the government has restricted use of these new funds to young beginning or financially distressed farmers.

In the same release, Mr. Whelan stated that in order to continue its lending programs, the interest rate on new loans will increase immediately from 12 3/4% to 13 1/2%. Thus, FCC has raised its rate by three quarters of a per cent at a time when other interest rates are in general remaining static. This is the kind of inflationary move that can do nothing but impede recovery in the agriculture sector of our economy. The minister's request that applicants be patient due to the large backlog of applications seems a little ridiculous in light of the fact that FCC caused the backlog and now they are going to charge a higher rate of interest than would have applied if the approvals had been given before June.

August 29, 1983 was an historic day in the history of the Progressive Conservative Party and the country. Brian Mulroney led the Party to two by-election victories in Central Nova, Nova Scotia and Mission-Port Moody in British Columbia.

Brian's election to the House of Commons as the M.P. for Central Nova gives him the right to assume the mantle of Leader of Her Majesty's Official Opposition in the House of Commons. When Parliament opens next week he will take his place. This marks the end of the beginning of this term of office as Party Leader and the beginning of the end of traditional Liberal Federal governments.

His majority in his own riding shows that the voters there understood the significance of the vote they were casting. Even more noteworthy is the victory in Mission-Port Moody. There, in a traditionally NDP seat, as in Central Nova the voters showed their desire to be rid of the Liberal Party and replace it with the new style of political thinking they see in Brian Mulroney.

I look forward to participating actively in the events of the upcoming months under Brian. He has already shown the ability to understand the issues of the electorate and I know that we will be able to carry that message to all Canadians before the next election. Then, finally, we will be able to begin the task of rebuilding this country out of the ruins it has been brought to by a government intent on only its own gratification.

In my view

by REVEREND JOHN JAMES

A funny thing happened one day on my way home to Windsor. I had crossed the Detroit-Windsor Tunnel on the bus and was walking through customs. The year was 1970. "Do you have anything to declare?" asked the customs officer. "Nothing," I replied.

"What's that in your pocket?" asked the customs officer.

"Oh yes, it's just a magazine I bought on the street."

"What's the magazine?"

"It's something printed by the Black Panthers."

(A half hour before, outside of Hudson's Department Store, I was met by a surly looking member of the Black Panthers, "selling" his papers to those who were unfortunate enough to pass by on his side of the street. On meeting this street vendor who was twice my size, I remembered that the national leader of the Black Panthers had allegedly killed a police officer in Oakland California. I looked at him towering over me while glaring down at me and realized he had an offer I couldn't refuse. After handing him fifty cents, I shoved the magazine in the back pocket of my Levis. That was an action I was soon to regret.)

"The Black Panthers!" That's seditious foreign material! It's banned from this country. What are you trying to bring into Canada?"

I tried to explain that I bought it to improve the quality of life - namely, my own, but it was to no avail. I handed the newspaper over and never saw it again. "Would you please step into that room, son. Right now!" Inside the room there was a desk and a chair. No windows. The inquisition was about to begin.

At the age of eighteen, I learned that we do legislate morality in this country of Canada. So you can imagine my reaction when I read in last week's Echo that an Anson, Hindon and Minden councillor had said in regard to the male stripper at the Rockcliffe Hotel, "we cannot legislate morality". Tell that to the customs officer at the Windsor border crossing. Tell that to the Alberta school board who fired a teacher recently for his anti-semitic views. Tell that to the Ontario Board of Censors who carefully screen all films coming into Canada. Of course, we legislate morality! The only question is, "where do we draw the lines?"

The Echo claims that "no one was harmed by the strip show at the Rockcliffe, and neither was the community, in any tangible way." Maybe that's true. But what about the harm done in intangible ways?

When Jim Keegstra was fired from his teaching position in an Alberta school because of his statements about the Holocaust and the Jewish race, none of his students was harmed in any tangible way. But, judging from comments I heard on the CBC news program "The Journal", many of them now hold a twisted, racist view of Jewish people.

The harm done was intangible, it couldn't be immediately seen or observed. So too, with a stripper, male or female.

A striptease does not involve a celebration of the naked human body. It involves exploitation of human sexuality. About the time I first encountered the Black Panthers, I also encountered my first stripper at Tracy Starr's Burlesque Palace in Windsor. As I remember, the incident, the strippers I saw were hardly joyous and celebrative. Bitter and bored, would be more accurate assessment. No one suffered in any tangible way. But I could see the suffering, pain and anger in their eyes and I came to believe that when one person suffers a loss of dignity and self esteem, the whole community is harmed in an intangible way. Our human sexuality is a marvellous gift from a gracious God. There is already plenty of sexual exploitation in our world without adding more in our own county.

Members of Anson, Hindon and Minden council who voted in favour of sending a letter to the owner of the Rockcliffe Hotel were right in doing so. My hat is off to them for their discernment and courage.

Merchant of the week

George and Elaine Schmid

George Schmid comes from a little place called Portland which is situated between Ottawa and Kingston on the Rideau Canal. He spent his younger years there learning the inn and restaurant business at a colourful place called the Stage Coach Inn, in nearby Newboro.

In 1979 George arrived in Haliburton and purchased the Beaconbrook Motel. It had been closed for some time and was in the hands of the Federal Business Development Bank. Shortly after he reopened, a young lady by the name of Elaine came to work in his dining room, and the inevitable happened. George, conscious of the high cost of good help, decided to marry her, and in November of 1981 they had an old fashioned

Beachli wins championship

Kinsmen's hopes crushed as builders drive in runs

John Beachli Construction made short work of the Haliburton Kinsmen last Tuesday night to wrap up another season of men's recreational fastball. The builders were devastating at the plate, unloading their bats for eleven runs, while the Kinsmen club, who surprised many fans with their hard driving play in the semi final round, simply ran out of steam.

The outcome of the game was never in doubt, although the Kinsmen had reason to hope they could come back from a 5-2 loss in game one of the best two out of three series. Beachli batters opened up in the first inning and never stopped connecting, while the Kinsmen were held to only four hits, none of which produced a run.

Hot bats made the difference

Mark Schell got things rolling for the builders with a two out single in the top of the first. Kevin Sisson then cracked a home run to score two and the builders were off and running for the trophy.

In the top of the second, Jeff Carpenter stood in for a walk, then advanced on errors. Bob Nichol and Wayne Speicher also got free trips to first on balls, and they crossed the plate on Dave Nicholls' triple to put the builders ahead by five runs.

The third inning also produced a run for the Beachli squad, as John Wilson singled, stole a base and advanced on a shot by John Robinson that was mishandled at third base.

Nothing came across in the fourth inning, with the only hit a single by Mike Carpenter.

In the fifth, Jeff Carpenter hammered a two out home run for the builders' seventh point.

The sixth inning sealed the Kinsmen's fate. Duff Mitchell led off with a walk, then scored as Dave Nicholls connected for a home run. Mike Carpenter also singled, and then he was driven home by Mark Schell, who hammered out the second home run of the inning. At that point there was still no one out, but the Kinsmen dug in and ended the inning with no more runs coming across.

Neither side could do anything to change the score in the seventh inning, and the game ended with an 11-0 advantage for the builders, who took home the championship trophy.

A batter winds up for the Kinsmen in the final game of the mens recreational league championship round last Tuesday night. The Kinsmen's surprising showing in the first round of the playoffs came to naught, as Beachli Construction rolled over them 11-0 to earn the title in two straight games.

The winners

Mark Schell accepted the league championship trophy from Cliff Dawson at the end of the Tuesday night's match against the Kinsmen team. Beachli Construction proved too powerful for the game but out-hit Kinsmen.

Guilford takes title in four straight

Fans had plenty to cheer about as both teams fought hard

by Lori Dean

It was a great game to end the season for the Haliburton County Ladies Softball League, as West Guilford defeated Minden Dixie Lee four games straight to take the "A" division championship. Both teams were well supported by local fans which was obvious by the cheering every time a run was scored or a good defensive play was made.

Guilford took an early lead, scoring five runs in the first inning. Minden didn't hit the scoreboard until the third when Nelda Cully scored on an RBI by Jane Symonds.

The fifth inning saw Guilford score four more runs and it was all but over for Minden. The Dixie Lee girls made a last ditch effort in the sixth with five runs, but time ran out and Guilford came off the Diamond "A" division champions.

Michelle Rosenberg, Gail Teasdale, Merrie Berry and Bev Sisson each scored two runs for Guilford. On Minden's side, Nelda Cully played well, scoring two. Sue Pine, Wendy Gough, Helen Burk and Jane Symonds all collected one apiece.

A great deal of credit also goes to Joan McKay who pitched her way through the whole season for Guilford.

In the "B" division (no report received) Minden Jrs. defeated Haliburton Jrs. for the "B" championship.

beating the Haliburton team three games to one.

Another softball season has come and gone. To the victors go the spoils. Many thanks to Wilberforce, Minden Dixie Lee, Haliburton Jrs., Carnarvon, West Guilford, Haliburton Jrs.,

Local soccer team advances to semi final

by JIM MILNE

The Dixie Lee soccer team upset Huntsville 4-2 last Sunday in a quarter final game and will advance to a sudden death semi-final against the first place team Gravenhurst in Gravenhurst Sunday, September 11 at 2:00 p.m.

Dixie Lee previously had lost both games to Huntsville but this time the team maintained a steady pace in attack and defence.

It was David Shapiera's last game and he marked the occasion by scoring two goals. His first goal came when the Huntsville keeper mishandled the ball. Shapiera alertly won control of the ball from a scramble on the goal line. Huntsville tied the score midway through the first half and failed to capitalize on a penalty kick.

Early in the second half, Rennie Carson received the ball from Ivor Thompson on an indirect kick and bounced a powerful kick into the goal off the crossbar. Paul Milne scored the winning goal after dribbling the ball around the Huntsville defenders.

Huntsville closed to within one goal before David Shapiera scored the insurance goal on a cross from Terry Crowe that the defenders couldn't clear.

Geoff Wynne, the team's oldest player, kept the bigger younger Huntsville players off their game with his

Hospitality Training proving to be a success

First class graduates and find employers want their skills

For the past 18 weeks a group of enthusiastic students have been learning the skills of the hospitality industry at a training course in

Sharon French carves at a session of the Haliburton Hospitality Training Centre. The students were doing a trial run of their graduation dinner Haliburton village. Now, they're heading out into the work force to put their newly acquired skills to the test. Already, many of them have found work in their chosen field. And that is gratifying not only to the students but to the local citizens and business people whose interest and cooperation made the Haliburton Hospitality Training Centre a reality.

The idea of a training centre in Haliburton came to light several months ago, but it wasn't until May that the first course got underway. The aim was to provide young people with a chance to develop their interest into marketable skills that could land them a job at local resorts, bars and restaurants. It has been a challenging task for all concerned, but the results are gratifying both for the students and for director Rebecca Parkes.

Funding for the centre came from the provincial Ministry of Employment and Immigration under the Local Employment Assistance Program, or LEAP. The Haliburton centre is unique, and has been watched with interest by the government and people in the hospitality industry. If it succeeds, it could be the forerunner of similar programs in other parts of Ontario.

When the course was established it was expected to run for 21 weeks. But the first session, which began May 3, was shortened by three weeks to give students a chance to find work in September, before the tourist season winds down.

Ten students began the course, but two eventually dropped out, having found employment in the meantime. The other eight completed the program, graduating last week.

Four areas of technical studies were addressed in the first course - housekeeping, kitchen help, bartending and waiting on tables. In addition to these practical skills, the students were also taught life skills, including resume writing, job interview techniques, budgeting, communication skills, dealing with feelings and interacting with the public.

"These skills should help a student get a job and keep a job," Parkes says, noting that once they are hired "it is important that they interact appropriately."

During the course the students have been exposed to the community as much as possible, the aim being to make them familiar with facilities and opportunities in the area. They have served food and drinks at a reception at the Rails' End

Placement provided contacts for students, led to jobs

Gallery and planned, cooked and served two dinners, one for the centre's board of directors and one for local senior citizens.

As well, the students have had a chance to work at three different tourist facilities during the 18 week course, acquiring practical experience of the industry.

"It has been through these placements that a lot of them have made contacts and been offered jobs as a result," says Parkes.

She has nothing but praise for local tourist operators who have supported the program from the outset. There was some concern that good students might be offered jobs and not finish the course, but potential employers have been encouraging the students to complete the program, Parkes says.

"We've almost had more offers than we have

Marg Kimmerly completed the bar tending course at the Hospitality Training Centre, and expects her training will help her land a job in her chosen field.

students, or a need for placements," she says.

The program is funded until March, and its future will depend on how many students are able to get jobs as a result of their training. Parkes thinks it may be possible to keep it going all year long, graduating students every four months or so provided that there can be flexibility in winter placements, with students working on weekends at area resorts.

The local course appears to be filling a gap

It feels a little strange to be back in school after a summer of fun and freedom, which may explain why

wedding in Portland, complete with horse and buggy.

Just over a year ago, encouraged by the high praise their culinary arts had attained, George and Elaine took on a new challenge. They completely renovated the building formerly operated as the Hayloft Tavern, and reopened it as the Harvest Dining Lounge. The formal dining room on the ground floor was designed for gourmet dining and on the second floor "The Lighter Side" is just that. It is brightly but tastefully decorated and has a light menu for snacks along with a social drink. This summer a licensed patio was added where you can soak up the late afternoon sun while enjoying a sandwich or appetizer.

The dining room operates from 5 p.m. to 10 p.m. and specialties include various selections of beef, pork, poultry and seafood. Their steaks are all cut and prepared on the premises from Grade A Canadian Beef and their Alaska King Crab continually receives reviews. To add to the evening Irene Thurston entertains with ballads and guitar solos through the dinner hours and then later on upstairs.

A coupon in each shop and deal discount book entitles you to a $2 discount in the dining lounge at the Harvest, and is valid any day until the end of March 1984. The books are available throughout the County for only $5.

LITTLE WARD NURSE

Such a lively bit o' Scottish heather
Wearing out her good shoe leather
Up and down the corridors,
In and out the rooms.
She's doing a mite of chest checking
Before the surgeon's wounds.

Heard her cheery laughter lately?
Seen her bright smile?
Caught her in a pensive mood? Well, once in a while.
Had a little sorrow and a bit of woe;
Could have shed a tiny tear, but you'd never know.
Far too great a burden to be borne by one.
Hope she finds much better hours in the days to come.

GOD ONLY KNOWS

In spite of modern prophets' foretelling,
God only knows and He isn't telling
Just what lies ahead for you or for me,
We just have to live day by day, wait and see.

Disappointments we may have, some failures and sadness,
But balancing these, success, joy and gladness,
Whatever befalls if our attitude's bright
Somehow, sometime, things will turn out right.

In spite of all setbacks we must try to cope,
In spite of discouragement we must live with hope,
If we never stop trying and never give up,
Someday we will sip from sweet victory's cup.

It is a lovely morning after a much needed rain, we are thankful but we need more. The reason why? A lot of well are going dry.

Harold and Ruth Thompson held the chapel service Sunday, while Rev. Burgess was speaking down at Miners Bay. Ruth played for singing, also led in prayer, then Harold read the lesson and took over from there. He said "I'd like to keep it cool and take you back to the little red school. He had the old second and third readers to quote from. It was a very interesting time and a lot of fun.

It is nice to have our cook Mark back from a week's holidays, also Joan Kernohan. We miss them both when they are away. Working on the kitchen staff was Winnie Danilko, she was going to have a baby and just had to go. Now they have a darling baby boy whose name is Curtis, Winnie is back with us again, we knew she wouldn't desert us.

Tuesday morning Rev. Phillips of the Anglican Church, Haliburton held a most interesting service in the chapel this August day. He read Galatians chapter five, "The fruit of the Spirit is - love, joy, peace, gentleness, goodness." He used symbols to represent each word.

Last weekend Mrs. Viola Deumo returned to her home at West Guilford to spend her birthday. It was also her granddaughter's wedding anniversary. It was perfect picnic weather and with her grandchildren they had a good time together. Lola Prentice had her aunt called the other day, from a Senior Citizens home down town Toronto way.

Neil Walker is back from a holiday where he spent two weeks visiting relatives out Alberta way. He says the crops are good, but they too need rain. He says he'd like to go sometime again.

The ladies from Kinmount Legion came over Thursday afternoon and brought along a tasty lunch. They were a jolly bunch. We played some music, they danced a waltz or two. We would like to say a big thank you.

Friday afternoon it is a sure thing our entertainers come to play and sing, first they lead us in a sing song. Grace brings her book of humorous poems along. I promised a few tunes on the harmonica to play. With Norma at the piano keys, we played some music that seemed to please. Then Grace sings so lovely while Norma plays "Flow gently Sweet Afton among they green braes." Lorne and Grace Coburn are, we think, flying to Winnipeg to attend a hundred year church anniversary where Grace attended in her younger days.

Our office staff has gone for this long holiday and left us kids to do as we wish, maybe go out to play. But there is always someone in the office to carry on and look after business when the rest are gone.

Well readers the weather stays so dry and hot, but I guess we will have to take it whether we like it or not.

Tuesday is back to school again, I would like to take you back to the little red school when, "it was school days, school days, dear old golden rule days, reading, writing, arithmetic, taught to the tune of a hickory stick. You was my girl in calico, I was your bashful barefoot beau you wrote on my slate, "I love you Jo," when we were a couple of kids. One gentle word that we may speak, or one kind loving deed, May through a trifle poor and weak prove like a tiny seed. And who can tell what good may spring from just a very little thing. (Helen Dobbs)

Balloon-a-thon a success

by ADA HANDLEY

The Burnt River Women's Institute Balloon-a-thon was a great success with over 400 balloons released into the air. The children were thrilled to let their balloons go on May 21 from the Recreation Park. Two balloons were found the same day they were let go. Amanda Watson was fortunate as she was on her way to see the Prince and Princess of Wales and called in to see Mr. and Mrs. S. Bobur of Stittsville who had returned her tag and letter. What a thrill for a little girl of five.

Tags and letters were returned from Quebec, the Ottawa area, Peterborough, Pembroke and Limerick Lake. Prize winners were Lori Vickerson, whose tag was returned from Quebec, going 371.4 km., and Derek Carr, whose balloon travelled 98 km. to Dunvegan. Shannon Lowell received a prize for collecting the most money.

Congratulations to these children.

Thanks to Mr. Goddard, Mrs. Thrasher and her committee, the children who collected the money, the Recreation Centre, 4H girls, A. Handley and Mr. and Doug Huddle and Lyle Ball from the Ministry of Transportation and Communications in Kingston, and Robertson attend the August 29, 1983 meeting to discuss and resolve the problem.

Ed Bernhardt attended the meeting to discuss his application to purchase the 66' road allowance leading to water.

Brendan Berube of Natural Resources was requested to attend the next council meeting to discuss the closing and selling of Second Avenue, lot 19, concession 4, township of Cavendish.

A Mr. Dubois attended the meeting to discuss his application to purchase the 66' road allowance leading to water, known as First Avenue on Registered Plan #2, which had been previously turned down.

Minutes of the Health and Sanitation Committee meeting of August 15, 1983 were adopted as presented.

The Cavendish Platoon of the Galway Cavendish Fire Department was authorized to purchase a 1981 new Johnson, 75 h.p. electric start complete with remote control and a one-year warranty at a price of $1,680 plus tax from Outboard Marine as per L.G. Groombridge, president and general manager's letter of August 3, 1983.

The council meeting was extended to 12:30 a.m.

Council supported the resolution from the city of Toronto pertaining to the extension of Daylight Saving Time, which would commence on the first Sunday in March and continue to the first Sunday in November of each year. The resolution will be forwarded to the Prime Minister of Canada, the Premier of Ontario, the Association of Municipalities of Ontario and the Organization of Small Urban Municipalities.

The letter from the Legislative Assembly pertaining to "Application for Private Bills" was supported.

The resolution from the township of South-West Oxford, pertaining to "Appeals to Cabinet from decisions of Joint Boards under the Consolidated Hearings Act" was supported.

The clerk, chairman of the Committee of Adjustment, and members of council were authorized to attend the planning seminar on August 25, 1983, and all out of pocket expenses and the registration fee will be paid.

The British Empire Motor Club will be permitted to erect signs to identify the route of the 30th annual corduroy Enduro rally, September 10-11, 1983. A copy of the route is to be submitted to the office prior to the event taking place.

The tender for "Overhead Doors" for the purpose of weatherstripping and caulking the overhead doors in Fire Hall #1 and #2, and the garage, was accepted.

This program is under the Energy Conservation grant the township received. Overhead Doors was the lowest tender in the amount of $1406.

The clerk was authorized to obtain bids for caulking and weatherstripping of Fire Hall #1 and #2, and the garage as per the Energy Auditors report and all would be completed except the overhead doors by October 1, 1983.

Dale Goodfellow's minor variance was referred to the building inspector for inspection of the proposal and submission of his comments and recommendations prior to the next council meeting.

Council consented to a minor variance application being made on concession 10, part lot 25, township of Galway, and authorized N.A. Beverly to bring the minor variance application to the Committee of Adjustment.

Council consented to a minor variance application being made on concession 3, part lot 16, township of Cavendish, and authorized Horace Manktelow to bring the minor variance application to the Committee of Adjustment.

Julius Kery's application for a conversion certificate was granted subject to an agreement being entered into with the township regarding "limited services" and registered on title. The applicant is to pay all costs associated with this matter.

The township solicitor was authorized to obtain a site plan for Gordon Best's property - lot 23, concession 5, township of Cavendish.

The reeve and clerk were authorized to sign an offer of purchase for concession A, part lot 43, township of Galway in the amount of $10,900.

The history of Galway-Cavendish prepared by the students working on the Experience 83 grant was received and referred to the culture and recreation committee for their perusal and recommendations as to the action if any that should be taken to make the publication available to ratepayers.

By-law 83-33, a by-law to confirm the proceedings of council at its meeting held on the 15th day of August, was passed.

They took the north route through Ontario, and travelled hard all day. But stopped at Haliburton, and picked Ed Miller up on the way.

Then through Cochrane and Nipigon, and down to Thunder Bay. We saw Fort William and Kakabeka falls, as we travelled on our way.

Through Dryden and Kenora, those three guys travelled on. And camped that night on the prairie, at Foam, Saskatchewan.

Then west to the town of Wainwright, Martin Biefer for to meet. He is editor of the Chronicle, on Wainwright's busiest street.

Then north west of Edmonton, in the evening I would say. We saw a wolverine, and a nice red fox, about the break of day.

Then westward on to Jasper, and while we were looking round. We met Jeanette Nesbitt, in a store in Hinton town.

From Jasper down to the ice fields, wild game from the forest it seemed broke loose. We saw five goats, two elk and a young cub bear, along with a big cow moose.

Herb called Karl the spy glass kid, as through the Rockies we came down. He kept looking for game with his field glasses, in the mountains all around.

Then around Bow lake and Lake Louise, a whole long day we spent. And through Kicking Horse pass and Golden, to Revelstoke we went.

And then to Kamloops and old Cache Creek, the Frazer canyon we went down. Over Jackass Mountain and Spences bridge, 'till we came to old Hope town.

Then west to the town of Aldergrove, Fred and Laura Miller for to see. Where we spent two days visiting, old friends for to see.

It was in Yukon and Alaska, Karl's great Uncle Ed Telford panned for gold. Then went south to Aldergrove, where he died when he was old.

His son Forrest and Mary Telford, have a dairy farm out that way. While Karl's Uncle Fred and Laura Miller, live along the Frazer way.

Then over to Vancouver, its China and gas towns for to see. Then over to old Stanley park, to see the big fir tree.

Then eastward we went to Harrison Lake, the hot springs for to see. If you poured some on a teabag in a pot, you would have a cup of tea.

Then we went back up the canyon, way up in the Caribou. We turned off to Cottonwood and Barkerville, as we were going through.

We saw where the steamboats, up the Frazer brought their load.

And then we saw a nice black bear, in the middle of the road.

Then on to old Prince George and Pine Pass, way up in the ranch country. From pine valley we drove to the mountain top, and came out on a high prairie.

This high prairie stretched from Chetwynd, to old Peace River town. And we saw many herds of cattle, on the ranches all around.

We met Emil Wipshank, and Indian brave, in Athabasca town, who after living two weeks like a bear eating berries, could lick any two men in town.

Then from Lake La Biche to Vilna, Bonnieville and Meadow lake. Then south to Battleford and Regina, the Trans Canada east did take.

In Regina, Karl couldn't find the cash register, and a waitress came up in haste. She crooked her arm for Karl to take, but they went with his arm round her waist.

Then across Manitoba and Ontario, lake Superior's northern shore came down. By Sault Ste. Marie and Parry Sound, to Haliburton town.

And thanks to Rolly Arthur, a gentleman of Wainwright town. Who picked me up at a restaurant, and showed me all around.

Wilberforce News

The congregations of the church of St. Margaret's were very sorry to hear that the Rev. George Meades had passed away. Mr. Meades took the services at St. Margaret's for several years. He was a fine looking man who won the respect of all who knew him. He and his wife, Violet, took a great interest in the affairs of the church. They encouraged many improvements to the building. Violet Meades suggested that a history of St. Margaret's Church should be compiled from the old church records.

The Rev. Mr. Meades served as rector at a number of Ontario churches. On leaving Wilberforce he moved to Lindsay where he worked as assistant rector of St. Paul's Anglican Church. He will long be remembered.

A recent fire alarm that took the firemen and their equipment to Lee's Rd. proved frustrating when the men were unable to locate the burning. After a futile search they returned to the fire station where a short time later a second call came through. This time the description of the burning area was more accurate and the men returned to find that a fire was in progress at Lake Lorraine about 200 feet down a steep hill to the lake. The fire was discovered by two ladies who were passing the area in a boat. They noticed a puff of smoke and investigated to find a fire burning underground from ignited tree roots and sod. At the spot was a picnic table with the legs burned away. The women dragged the table away and noticed that a corn roast had been held and the fire not properly extinguished. Had they not notified the fire department a cottage about 50 feet from the fire would have been destroyed. The women notified the fire hall but did not give the specific location which caused a lot of time lost in finding the site. When you know of a fire, don't panic when giving directions. Make it as easy as possible for the men to reach the spot. However, the women should be commended for sounding the alarm.

Over the weekend the Wilberforce Veneer Co. held a very successful three day sale of furniture. The display area was the Wilberforce curling rink. The furniture, suitable for cottages, was of polished oak and maple with many pieces nicely upholstered. Chairs, lounges or love seats and tables were very reasonably priced and sold well. The veneer is processed in Wilberforce at the veneer plant then taken to Orono and manufactured into furniture. The sale could become an annual event.

The popular thing to do these days is to gather up all the things you no longer use and, instead of storing them in the attic or basement, hold a sale and give others the opportunity to make use of your treasures. Many people took advantage of a sale of household articles that was held on Saturday at the Tory Hill Community Centre. There were lots of bargains and a good crowd was there to snap them up. One table had been set aside for the Girl Guides and Brownies who held a bake sale. They were well pleased with the results.

I don't know how many people attended the Kinmount Fair but it looked like the biggest crowd this side of the Toronto Ex. There was a vast area packed full of cars. It is wonderful to see such perfect weather for these events as there is so much work and planning put into them. Great crowds of people were all happy and having a good family outing.

With so many excellent entries, judges at the Kinmount Fair had a hard time picking winners in garden produce categories, but there were plenty of ribbons to go around.

Norland Natter

by Kelly Graham

Well, all us kids are now back in school. I'd tell you how I like my new one but because I have to write this column a week beforehand I'm not exactly in grade nine yet. This is why I request you to submit all items at least 10 days ahead of the day you wish to see it printed.

As the summer rushes to a close so does the Opportunity Shop. The shop, located in the Women's Institute hall, will be having bag sales on August 30 and September 3, 6, 7, 8, 9 and 10. If you are not familiar with the term "bag sale" I will explain: during a bag sale you may purchase all the merchandise you can stuff in a bag for a dollar. After the last sale the shop will close until next spring. Sounds like a good deal to me!

While in Lindsay last week I ran into my former teacher Brian Hough and his children Craig and Christine. Although he is a resident of Lindsay he has a subscription to the Haliburton County Echo so he can read the Norland Natter. I thank him for that and would like to acknowledge the fact that after being my teacher for four years he taught me the big words that are found in my vocabulary.

The winner of Shirley Harrison's latest Wintario ticket was Mary Johansson.

Todd burrows of Coboconk recently had a single-car accident. Todd, and his passenger were taken to Ross Memorial Hospital in Lindsay. Injuries are undetermined. Some local youngsters, including Erin McFadden and Jackie Luff, attended a computer camp held at Coboconk Public School from August 22 - 26.

Congratulations to Wyatt and Debbie Greer who recently became the happy parents of a baby boy.

The Victoria County Mobile Preschool Centre will be once again coming to Norland. The mobile toy and book library will be at the Norland Community Hall on September 21 from 10 a.m. to 12 noon.

The euchre scores for Thursday, September 1 were as follows: ladies' high, Susie Lightfoote; men's high, Robbie Landry; lone hands, Ziggy; ladies' low, Ada Thomas; men's low, Roger Gostlin; skunk and smelly, Lori Lynn Liscombe, Roger Gostlin.

Since school has now resumed here are some munchies' perfect for lunches: Chocolate Refrigerator Cookies (5 dozen) Ingredients - 2 1/2 cups (625 ml) all purpose flour, 1/2 cup (75 ml) baking soda, 1 cup (250 ml) soft butter or margarine, 3/4 cup (150 ml) firmly packed brown sugar, 1/2 cup (125 ml) corn syrup, 1 egg, 1/4 tsp. (2 ml) vanilla, 3/4 cup (175 ml) chopped nuts. Sift together flour, cocoa and baking soda. Cream butter; beat in sugar. Stir in corn syrup. Beat in egg and vanilla. Blend in sifted dry ingredients. Stir in nuts.

Shape dough in rolls two inches (5 cm) in diameter; wrap in waxed paper. Chill several hours or overnight. Cut into thin slices and place on ungreased cookie sheets. Bake in preheated 375°F (190°C) oven 10 to 12 minutes.

Two local bus drivers were recently honoured with plaques from the Victoria County Board of Education. Mr. Fielder and Mr. Fred Halliday were awarded the plaques in recognition for their invaluable services during their positions as bus drivers. Both are now retired.

Also, a Fenelon Falls Secondary School teacher, Ken Skeoch has developed exam questions to be used nationally by science students.

I think many congratulations are in order for all three men who have contributed so much to the education of school children.

Well that's all for this week. Remember, you can reach me at 454-3707.

Last week while reporting the features playing at the Highlands Cinema in Kinmount I said that those were the end of the line until next spring. I was wrong, they were simply the end of the big "sheet" which told what movies were playing. You can pick up the next sheet in the Norland Red and White. Sorry for any inconvenience that may have caused you.

EARLY BIRD MORNING SWIM
Monday and Friday
7 am - 9 am

Kiss an old flame goodbye.

We'd like you to take a minute now to think about something you'd really rather not think about. Home heating. Because right now is the perfect time to do something about next winter's oil bills.

If your oil furnace is in good condition, but you'd like it to run more economically, electricity is the answer. A dual-energy system combining oil and electricity will heat your home efficiently and economically.

For example, adding an electric plenum heater to your oil furnace will reduce the amount of oil you use by up to 75 per cent. While adding a heat pump will not only cut heating bills by 20 to 30 per cent, but also provide air conditioning in the summer, for efficient year-round comfort.

If your furnace does need replacing, an electric furnace or one of the other electric systems can heat your home cleanly, efficiently and economically.

Like to know more? Take a minute now and write to Ontario Hydro, Room U7 E1, 700 University Avenue, Toronto M5G 1X6 and ask for our free booklet "Electric Heating Options for Your Home."

Because the minute you take now could add up to big savings come December.

Go Electric

Kinmount Korner

by MILLIE MOSS

Don't forget the open house to be held at the Kinmount Community Centre from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. on Sunday, September 11 in honour of Flossie and Perc. Shermans' 50th wedding anniversary. Best wishes only please.

The Norland Opportunity Shop situated on Highway 503 just north-west of Highway 35 in Norland, once again presents its end of season sale - better known as the "bag sale". As much as you can stuff in a bag for a dollar. It will run from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. August 30, September 3, 6, 7, 8, 9 and 10. Lots of good used clothing can still be had just by visiting the good ladies in the Women's Institute Hall in Norland. Where else can you get a wardrobe for a dollar?

The month of August has been a hectic one at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. "Gull" Guillemain and Mrs. Nancy Carefoot. No sooner had one visitor left when another group arrived. First, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Guillemain with their family, Deborah, Laura, Michael and baby Diane came for four days, from Toronto. They so enjoyed getting out on the river. Then Elaine Guillemain arrived and spent four days with Grandmother, Mrs. Carefoot. A few days later Mrs. Pat Cherry arrived from Montreal and stayed six days.

The weather certainly was in their favour and thankfully the garden provided many tasty meals. A few days later Mr. and Mrs. Jack Parson and son John arrived from Ohio and spent a few days. Mr. Parson took time out to go and visit Frank and Freda Munro in Bancroft. Unfortunately he missed seeing Freda as she was ill, but it is hoped she is better by now. During the time of these visitors, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Boland invited Mrs. Cherry, Mrs. Carefoot and Mary Guillemain for tea, serving fresh blueberry muffins. Next day, the same three ladies were invited to Mr. and Mrs. "Rube" Percy's home for afternoon tea. While the Parson family were here Mr. and Mrs. Boland entertained them to an evening of refreshments and a lunch. Mr. Leonard Hughes took John Parson to the Three Brothers Falls which the young man found very exciting and later drove him to the dump site to see the bears which was the thrill of his life. So comes the end of the month of August and I don't know what September will bring but I rather expect more visitors.

I hope you folks enjoyed last weekend. Let me tell you of mine: On Friday evening, son Bill said Jason and he would go to Norland for the weekend to give me a rest.

Saturday dawned a beautiful day and I decided to start at some closet cleaning. Then I got a phone call from son Bill, who asked if I could come over? His incision had opened up about four inches and the Hospital wanted him right away. Bill and I took off for Norland, and the men headed for Lindsay. I stayed at Norland. Suddenly there was a yell from Jason's friend Paul: "Jason has cut himself." I went out in a hurry. He was cut somewhere on the hand, I couldn't tell for sure where with all the blood and dirt. Some time later, following a trying period between "I don't want stitches" and trying to get the flow stopped, I saw a deep cut in between his thumb and forefinger. I figured I'd better get him to Minden Red Cross but how? There was no one to drive, the men weren't back yet, and brother-in-law Alex Graham was not home. Paul's parents, Ted and Mary Jane Comack, stepped in and drove us to Minden. Much later, following two soakings of the hand, the doctor decided not to stitch but bandaged it for five days to a week.

Thanks to the Comack family for being there when needed. Thank you too, Paul, for telling Jason all about your many stitchings and "It won't hurt!" I'm sure Jason was making that noise just out of sympathy for you. When we arrived back in Norland, the boys were back from Lindsay and after being told we had gone to Red Cross and the fact an ambulance went flying past them on the way home with flashing lights and screaming sirens, they feared the worst. All's well that ends well though and on the way back to Kinmount I asked the age old question, "Why me?"

Results of St. Patrick's C.W.L. Card Party with 12 tables of euchre players were: men's high: Sam Duffy, who also took lone hands, men's low: Sean Morris, ladies' high: Verlie Young, ladies' low: Ann Cain.

Well folks, that verse to Ida Young has her blessing to be passed on to you and follows: "There was a young lady named Ida, who into a log truck did slide. We were all so upset, until the news we did get, that she's bruised and sore but alright!"

With love and best wishes from Susan and Tim, Ashley and Lindsay Kearns.

Archie Bowman, who is now getting around with the aid of a cane, following his accident a few weeks back, wishes to thank all who sent him cards, phoned and otherwise showed they cared while he was a patient in Peterborough Civic and later at home.

"It's grand to have good friends like you; who think of such kind things to do."

Gordon Yewman of Gooderham was the lucky winner of $31.75 in the Kinmount Legion 50/50 draw.

Carnarvon News

The funeral service for Grace Graham, nee Chambers of Toronto was held in the Twelve Mile Church on September 2. She was predeceased by six sisters and two brothers, most of whom are interred in the cemetery at Twelve Mile. Her parents are also buried there and the old homestead is quite well kept, different members of the family using it in the summer.

After the burial relatives of the family gathered in the Christian Education Building and the U.C.W. ladies served lunch. Mrs. Hazel Gregory has been pleased to have had her pen pal of 48 years from Scotland visiting her. Peggy Robertson was here five years ago and met many of Hazel's friends. Mr. and Mrs. Lew Tompkins and family are attending a silver wedding anniversary in Ottawa over the weekend. Mrs. Wm. McKay is in Toronto making arrangements for her son's entry to Seneca College.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Lepine of Oshawa are holidaying at Maple Lake. Mr. and Mrs. M. Windsor have been holidaying at Peterborough and Silver Lake, near Perth and had just returned home when they heard of the death of Miss Hester Irwin of Hastings Manor in Belleville so they returned for the funeral which was held in Madoc.

Hester was 93 years old. A word of thanks to Alice Chambers who has donated cookies all summer for the coffee hour after church.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Rogers and friends from Arizona are spending some time at their cottage on Boskung.

We are sorry to report that Mrs. Leigh Sisson and Mrs. Arch M. are in hospital.

The bake shop has closed its doors until next summer.

Agricultural News

According to the Ontario Pork Producers Marketing Board figures, sow numbers in the province are declining.

When sow slaughter numbers reach the three percent level, it usually means a turnaround in production.

In July and August to date, slaughter of sow has been above 3 per cent each week. The usual figure is around 2.5 per cent. In mid-July, sow slaughter was near the 4 per cent range.

These figures are an indication that producers are concerned about overproduction. They have had to contend with low prices since April of this year.

According to the marketing board, market hog numbers have not yet peaked.

The present sow reduction will not offset overall numbers until the second quarter of 1984.

Facts to Shoot Down Fallacies
Beef cattle producers often hear comments about beef, especially in the news media, which are not supported by facts. The beef information centre in Toronto has provided the following factual information to refute some of the common fallacies about beef.

Fallacy: Dieters should eliminate beef from their menus. Beefact: Beef is an ideal food to include in any weight loss program due to its high nutrient density and satisfaction value. (Nutrient density is the ratio of nutrients to calories - a high nutrient density indicates a high level of nutrients in comparison to calories.) Beef contains no carbohydrate, and if only the lean portion of the meat is eaten, the calorie content can be substantially reduced.

Fallacy: Protein is the only nutrient found in beef.

Beefact: The complete protein in beef is a major contributor to a balanced diet. However, beef also supplies substantial amounts of essential minerals and vitamins, such as iron, zinc, vitamin B12, niacin, riboflavin and thiamin. The iron that is found in beef is in a form which is more readily available for use in the body than the iron available from vegetable sources. The presence of meat in the diet also increases the absorption of iron from other sources.

Preconditioning Gaining Acceptance

Preconditioning is a program which can minimize the economic loss caused by stress and disease during the movement of calves from the cow herd to the feedlot.

The practise of preconditioning began in Iowa in the late 1960's. In the last 12 years this program has grown significantly with 600,000 calves preconditioned in 1981.

Alberta Agriculture started an Alberta Certified Preconditioned Feeder (ACPF) Program as a pilot project in 1980. In 1981, 7,113 calves were tagged and certified.

The Alberta Program showed a healthy growth in 1982 with a total of 16,256 calves being certified. Inquiries from British Columbia, Saskatchewan and Manitoba about starting their own certified programs have been received. Manitoba is interested in adopting the ACPF program and using similar certificates and tags. The objective is to have a consistent program throughout Canada.

The successful operation of these Preconditioning Programs in an area is dependent upon the interest and co-operation of the producers, veterinarians, auction market operators and Agricultural staff.

The Iowa and Alberta Preconditioning Programs both show that preconditioning

It was a beautiful fall day, Saturday and our town was super busy. The afternoon saw many local folks at the Kinmount Fair and that is always a special event. Aren't we who are well, fortunate to be able to enjoy the great outdoors? Our neighbour, Fanny Richman is still in Ross Memorial Hospital as Mrs. Millyard. Also, a well known Burnt River lady, Alma Rettie, is in hospital.

Ruth Fralick is home and has enjoyed a visit from Carolyn Brown and friend of Stouffville, and Jim and Carol Bedford and their children, Jeffrey and Dawn of Oshawa.

Last Sunday evening, the folks of Faith Tabernacle held a pot luck dinner and presentations of plaques were made to Rev. B. Cross, who is retiring, and to Robert E. Brohm, who has resigned as Sunday School Superintendent. The Cross's also received a money tree, a real live tree with actual money. An enjoyable time was had by all.

Winners in the Seniors card games on Tuesday night were as follows: ladies' first - Hilda Woodcock, 79; second - Mildred Jewell, 74; most lone hands - Mildred Jewell, 4; consolation - Kay Clodd, 31. Gents' first - Ben Farrow, 80; second - Joe Manley, 72; most lone hands - Don Aguirre, 5; consolation - Jean Montgomery, bridge first - Betty Harwood, 5060; second - Ethel Slany, 4660; consolation - Noreen Puterbaugh, 400.

The Stan Arkwright house (formerly North Star Realty) has been sold to Thane and Teri Yeo. Stan, Betty and family will be moving to Janetville.

Brad and Ericka Bradamore and family have moved to the former Summerfeldt house about three miles north of town.

Bill Nesbitt and family of Moncton, N.B. visited his mother, Frances Nesbitt recently. Norm Nesbitt of Lindsay and Ron Nesbitt and family of St. Thomas were also recent visitors.

Kim Bowins, soon to be bride of Gary Swain, was hosted at a personal shower at the Yeo residence (Shell Service Stn.) last Saturday evening.

My sister, Denna and her husband - Bill - White of Calgary, Alta. motored to the Minden area last Monday to find great grandfather Kasper Brohm's grave and dig up some more family history, and were happy to locate the grave. Denna and Bill had dinner with us today before leaving for a Salvation Army Band concert in Toronto tonight.

Those noisy trucks that rumble away at all hours the night, up to the quarr, are hard working fellows, so we really should not complain because, at least, they are working. It's all a right way to perk up our economy.

How terrible that so many die on our highways. The accident just west of town last week was a jolt to remind us that we are never really safe on any road.

Our sympathy to the many relatives of the late Stu Rutter who died suddenly at Bramalea on Wednesday. Stewart's relatives are mainly in this area and Minden and Haliburton areas. He was just 55 years old and was a brother of Norma Suggit who lives in Baddow.

Mrs. Barbara Travis has returned home to Moosemin, Sask. after a visit with a number of relatives here.

John Burgess will soon be closing out his business at the Feed Mill here. We wish him well in whatever new venture lies ahead.

Course 'has helped a lot', students say

between the kind of hands-on training that some resorts are willing to give new employees and the training offered at community colleges.

It is geared toward local people, aged 16 to 24, although older students may also be accepted.

Most people who have taken the course don't view it as a stepping stone to advancement. They simply want to work, and the course gives them some of the skills they'll need to do that.

"I don't think a lot of these people have a desire to move out of the region," Parkes says. "Part of what we're trying to do is to make them realize that yes, they can make a career out of the hospitality industry, and make pretty good money at it too."

Sean Beresford is a graduate of the course, and he is pleased with the way it turned out. A Grade 13 dropout who is living in Minden, he heard about the course on radio and decided to apply for it, enrolling in the bartending division.

"It's been enjoyable," Beresford says, noting that he was challenged to motivate himself. During the course he worked at Sir Sams Inn, Locarno and the Beaconbrook, discovering that while there is generally a surplus of bartenders, there are job opportunities in the Haliburton area.

The placements "give you a good idea of whether you're suited to work with the public or not," Beresford says. And it seems he is, because he has landed a full time job working at Sir Sams.

Wanda Lee McNeil of Minden read about the course in the paper and decided to apply. She had dropped out of school and was finding it difficult to land a job. She, too is pleased with what she has learned.

"I think everyone who doesn't have a job should try to do it," she says. She worked as a waitress at local lodges during the course, and hopes one of those placements will lead to a job.

"I'd like to continue waitressing," she says, adding that the course helped her to know what to expect in a work situation and how to do the job that lodge owners expect.

"I think it's a good program," she says.

Marg Kimmerly had finished a course at Durham College in Oshawa in industrial orientation but soon discovered that jobs were not easy to find.

So she took a chance on the Haliburton course, studied bartending, and has not been disappointed.

"As far as employment goes, I think it's helped a lot," she says. "I don't think I'll have any problem finding a job".

She worked at the Beaconbrook, the Rockcliffe and Wigamog during the course, and got a good grounding in the job.

Kimmerly says she enjoys making drinks, trying different recipes and meeting people. But she prefers the security of working behind the bar to being out on the floor serving the drinks.

Kimmerly thinks anyone who is unemployed and interested in working in the hospitality industry could benefit from the course. And she thinks the idea should spread.

"I think there's a need for the course all over, not necessarily just here."

A second session of the hospitality training course will begin later this month. Already more than 20 applications have been received for 12 openings.

With that kind of interest, and with the apparent success of the first session, the Hospitality Training Centre could be a fixture in Haliburton for a long time to come.

RUN, WALK, JOG, STROLL, RIDE, WHEEL, ORGANIZE, SPONSOR, REGISTER FOR TERRY.

Terry Fox. A legacy of courage, strength, hope, humour. His story is no longer new to any of us. But time has neither diminished its impact nor lessened the need to continue what he began.

The second annual Terry Fox Run for the Marathon of Hope is fast approaching. There are many ways in which you can get involved. Run, walk or ride. Go as far as you can. Take the time you need. Organize a run. Ask your local club, PTA, school, neighbourhood association for assistance. Sponsor a friend or neighbour. Help at the registration desk on the day of the Run. Or come and cheer the runners.

It's all participation and that's what the Marathon of Hope is about.

Terry had the courage to get up and fight. Because he cared enough to try. Show your care. Participate in The Terry Fox Run of 1982 and contribute to a triumph.

Federation of Ontario Naturalists

by ARLIN HACKMAN - Fed. of Ont. Naturalists

Through the ages, snakes have been feared, misunderstood and maligned. Some people believe all snakes are venomous. Others consider them useless. Many dislike them "simply because they are snakes".

Fortunately this attitude is changing. Gradually the realization is spreading, through natural history education, that these reptiles play an important part in nature consuming great numbers of insects and rodent pests. But will this change occur quickly enough in Ontario to prevent the extinction of our one and only poisonous snake, the eastern massasauga rattler?

Found chiefly along the shores of Georgian Bay to about twenty miles inland, on some of the Islands and on the Bruce Peninsula, the massasauga also makes its home along some parts of the Lake Huron, Lake St. Clair and Lake Erie Shores. Although it dines chiefly on the mice found in rocky situations and meadows, the favourite habitat of this mild-mannered, rather sluggish little snake occurs in and around swamps. There it can be found searching for another staple, frogs, and often swimming some distance from shore.

Born in numbers of seven or eight during the summer months, the massasauga is a stout-bodied snake which seldom attains a length of more than two and a half feet. Its head is broad and distinct from the neck, the snout is blunt, and like all rattlers the massasauga also has the facial pits and cat-like eye pupils.

Despite its small size, this rattler is equipped to fend of itself, as it must from birth, with highly toxic venom which attacks the heart and circulation system. A bite from a massasauga has proven fatal in a few cases, though prompt medical treatment is sufficient to prevent this from happening. The chances of being bitten are very slight, however, as the massasauga prefers to retreat to attack and tries to avoid encounters with humans. The greatest danger lies in accidentally stepping on one or, more commonly, in trying to capture or kill it.

In fact a far bigger worry is the threat which human settlement poses to the entire rattler population. Urban development and the draining of wetlands have taken a big toll already, and present scientific studies indicate the species has approached the first warning sign on the road to extinction. As its numbers decline scientific study becomes more difficult and it is important for public sightings and observations to be recorded. A handy booklet produced by the Federation of Ontario Naturalists provides accurate information on the massasauga and is useful preparation for anyone who comes across one of these reclusive snakes.

does pay if properly done. Increased returns to the cow-calf man and decreased death loss and treatment costs to the feedlot makes the program appealing to all. Buyers have been paying premiums for preconditioned calves at approved program sales. Calves must be:

- owned for 60 days by the operator who is preconditioning them
- at least four months of age before vaccinations are given
- castrated and dehorned at least three weeks before the sale

- vaccinated with 8-way clostridial vaccine three weeks before sale
- IBR and PI3 vaccination must be done at least three weeks before the sale by a licensed veterinarian
- treated for warble grub three weeks before the sale
- weaned at least 30 days before the sale

Monmouth

A special meeting of Monmouth Township council was held on August 30, 1983 at 8:00 p.m. to discuss 422681 Ontario Limited's letter of credit on Plan 611 and a rezoning By-law and a subdivision agreement on draft plan of subdivision on Clement Lake.

Present were reeve: Keith Tallman; deputy reeve: Harry Clark; councillors: Jim Deterling, Barry Dunford and Alan Revill.

The reeve and clerk authorized to execute and affix the Corporate Seal to the Subdivision Agreement between 422681 Ontario Limited and the Corporation dated July 20, 1983 as amended.

At this point at 10:00 p.m., Barry Dunford left the meeting. Letters from Gary Stoughton and Rocky Graham were introduced re their withdrawal of names from the Road Superintendent's position. A motion was introduced resolving that Barry Dunford be hired as Road Superintendent. In a recorded vote, Alan Revill voted yea, Harry Clark voted nay, Jim Deterling voted nay, and Keith Tallman voted yea. The motion was not carried.

Four counties centre gets health ministry grant

The Four Counties Addiction Services (FourCAST) of Peterborough, Victoria, Haliburton and Northumberland has been awarded an annual grant of $52,900, beginning October 1, Health Minister Keith Norton announced.

Located in Peterborough, FourCAST will provide assessment, referral, support, guidance and information services to alcohol and drug abusers as well as to their families and friends in the four counties.

The program has been endorsed by the Haliburton-Kawartha-Pine Ridge District Health Council.
